

Finding your way to the stadium...

There are a number of ways to get to the Stade Gilbert Brutus, which lies to the north of the city, near the airport.

You can walk from Le Castillet (around 25 minutes) or take a free bus service to the ground.

A taxi will cost 10-15 euros. The Gilbert Brutus is at the north-east of the city, near to the airport of Perpignan.

The address is : Stade Gilbert Brutus - Avenue de l'aérodrome - 66000 Perpignan.

By car :

If you are approaching Perpignan on the A9 (from Montpellier-Toulouse)

Take the exit N°41 - Perpignan North - Follow AIRPORT

Join the D900 - Follow AIRPORT

Take the exit Avenue de l'Aérodrome - Haut Vernet

At the airport roundabout, take the 5th exit onto the D117.

You'll find the Gilbert Brutus Stadium on your left, you can't miss the floodlights.

If you are driving from Spain - Via the E15 toll motorway and A9

Take the exit N°42 - Perpignan South

Follow PERPIGNAN CITY-CENTER - Stay on the D900 - Follow AIRPORT

Take the exit N°7 D117 - Follow Foix/Airport/Haut-Vernet

At the roundabout take the 1st exit on the right onto the D117 and the Gilbert Brutus Stadium is ahead on your left

Car-park :

There is free parking on the streets around the ground and a number of free car parks but these can fill up quickly on matchday so you may have to park further afield or in the many city centre car parks.

Remember, you can take the bus for FREE to and from the stadium, just make sure you keep your match ticket.

By train :

On the high speed TGV line, Perpignan is approximately:

1h20 to Barcelona

1h30 to Montpellier (1h50 with the TER)

2h50 to Toulouse (via Narbonne)

5h00 to Paris

Further information on : <http://www.voyages-sncf.com/>

By plane:

Some airlines have direct flights to the Perpignan-Rivesaltes Airport, based just six minutes to the Gilbert Brutus Stadium by car.

Many fans choose to fly to Girona, over the border in Spain. It takes approximately 1 and a half hours to drive to Perpignan from Girona.

Further information on : <http://www.aeroport-perpignan.com/>

By Bus :

On a Catalans Dragons game day, all the buses from CTPM Company will be free for supporters of both teams on presentation of their game day ticket.

Fans can take advantage of this offer by taking the bus from any bus stop in the town centre to go to the Gilbert Brutus Stadium.

The bus routes that pass by the Gilbert Brutus Stadium are 4 - 12 - 13 - 14. All of these buses stop at the bus stop BRUTUS (behind the swimming pool on Avenue de l'aérodrome).

To return to Perpignan, a special bus will depart the stadium from behind the swimming pool on the opposite side of the road from the drop off every 15 minutes after the game and head into the city centre.